NORTH STAR SHOWING GOOD ORE RESERVES

There has been no change to report at the North Star property during the past several days. It is stated officially that the showing on both the 850 and 100 levels is up to expectations and that a splendid ore vein has been uncovered in both workings. Plans are materializing whereby the scope of development will gradually be enlarged and as a natural consequence the output will be augmented from time to time.

PREVENTION OF TUBERCULOSIS BY NUTRITION

Scientific Treatment Is Now Planned of Delicate Children to Prevent Malady.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 6.—The prevention of malnutrition means to a great extent the prevention of tuberculosis, Dr. R. P. Emerson of Boston told the members of the National Tuberculosis Association in their meeting here yesterday. Dr. Emerson is president of the nutrition clinics for delicate children in Boston. Dr. Emerson pointed to the nutrition class as the means of preventing malnutrition. It was not enough he said to organize any kind of a class, but one that would work on a well thought out program including the following feature:
Selection of malnourished children by means of weighing and measuring on the basis of clinically determined standards.
Cooperation with a well equipped diagnostic clinic.
Complete physical growth, mental and social examinations.
The elimination of physical defects and other conditions in order that children may be free to gain.
Modified school programs commensurate with the child's strength, also credit for well organized health work as for other school subjects.
Home cooperation for securing proper rest periods and feeding program, also for training in food and health habits to insure permanency of results obtained.
The weight chart as a constant indication of growth conditions.
Proper use of summer camps and other special agencies.
The proper placing of responsibility upon physician, nutrition worker and parents. Adequate preparation makes it possible for a physician to care for a class of 20 in half an hour's time each week.

CONDITIONS SHOWING MUCH IMPROVEMENT

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 6.—Employment conditions in the United States demonstrate there is a "widespread industrial awakening extending from coast to coast," Secretary of Labor Davis declared today, commenting on investigations of reports made by the federal employment service. Although there are a few dark spots in which considerable unemployment is reported, Davis added, "the entire country can be said to have come out of the depression."

AVERILL HAS DECIDED LANDER BANK HEARING

In the district court yesterday, Judge Mark R. Averill handed down a decision in the case of the Lander County Bank versus Frank B. Smith, John Bermeosole and Jacob Urech, finding that the agreement between the plaintiff bank, and defendant Urech, signed by the cashier, is valid. The court also held that foreclosure may follow, if decided upon by the bank, the proceeds to be distributed as follows: Cost of foreclosure to be paid; interest due the bank on the Smith note; principal due Urech; principal due the bank; attorney fees for the bank not exceeding $1021. Each side to bear its own cost.

The suit was instituted to foreclose two mortgages given upon land on Moores creek, Nye county, and a certain herd of cattle. Later when a sale of the ranch developed a plan was submitted whereby sheep were substituted for the cattle. The consideration was $24,000, of which sum $10,000 stood for the value of the ranch and improvements, and the $14,000 for the sheep.

WHEELHORSE BANKING SYSTEM STILL BUSY

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 6.—For more than 40 years a bright-eyed, grey-haired man has presided at a desk in one of the rooms of the spacious treasury building, watching billions of wealth in coin, currency and credits march by. He knew the national banks in their infancy just after the Civil war and he knows the "inside story" of the romance of the American monetary system.

He is Thomas P. Kane, deputy comptroller of the currency and the right hand man of many comptrollers. He is called the wheel horse of the administrative machinery which looks after the national banking system. Recently he yielded to the urging of friends and began to write his memoirs to tell "the inside story" of most of the great financial movements of the last 40 years. Bankers of New York though his recollections of such great value to financial history that they have arranged for their publication next fall.

If you would enjoy yourself and make the week complete, then attend the dance to be given at the Eagles hall Saturday night. William F. Logan, popular violinist will be included in the orchestra.

Hundred and Six Tons of Ore Is Sent to Mill During the Past Week.

The Gold Zone mine in the Divide district, continues to give a good account of itself, and during the week drawing to a close this morning a shipment of 106 tons resulted. JURY DISAGREES AND COMPLAINT DISMISSED

The jury in the second trial of Victor Garnica, charged with having resisted an officer, failed to reach a verdict yesterday afternoon and at 5 o'clock were discharged from further consideration of the case by Justice Cuddy. Thereupon the district attorney, who appeared in person to prosecute this petty case on two different occasions, announced that he would ask for a dismissal, which was granted.

Garnica was charged with having broken a small phial containing moonshine when a search of his place of business, known as the U. & L. was made a few days ago. Attorney Joseph T. Murphy contended that there could be no resistance on the part of the defendant by reason of the fact that the search warrant was not directed to him personally.

AMUSEMENTS

BUSTER KEATON—BOUBLE BILL TODAY

Funnier than the funniest joke is the tale of woe pictured by Buster Keaton, in the riot of hilarious mishaps where the sad-faced comedian's attempts to get rid of his many troubles always bring new ones and make "Hard Luck" (which will be shown at the Butler today) too good to miss. The other picture on today's bill is "Old Lady 31." It is a story of plain folk. The simple narrative of "Angie" Rose, her improvident husband, through sunshine and storm these twain have walked down life's pathway, hand in hand—always lovers. They don't call $8,000.00 a fortune these days, yet it was to Angie and Abe. There was the story pathetic common up to the point when they invested the money in mining stocks, only to hear the small fortune was lost. But after that the story changed perhaps into the most appealing quaint and unusual any playwright ever conceived. Emma Dunn, who played Angie in the original New York production, appears again in the charming role she created, in the picture. Tomorrow, May McAvoy in "A Homespun Vamp," and Ruth Roland in "White Eagle".
Coming "The Child Thou Gavest Me."

Fun galore at the Eagle dance Saturday night, and music par excellence with William F. Logan playing the violin. Of course you going.
